

Your support provides healing for the whole person - body, mind and spirit. Refugees like Diana in Uganda are receiving mental health care to cope with the trauma they've experienced while fleeing their homes.

Meet Theresa

In her 12 years volunteering with Medical Teams International, Theresa has provided lifesaving health care for many, on sojourns to some of the toughest, most vulnerable places on earth.

In 2017, Theresa traveled to Bangladesh to respond to the Rohingya refugee crisis. “Without medical care, all hope is lost,” Theresa said. “Lives are being saved on a daily basis.” Thanks to your support, volunteers like Theresa can go where the needs are urgent and provide compassionate care to suffering families.

VOLUNTEERS

Last year, we saw incredible passion from our volunteers—deploying overseas to serve as doctors and nurses and train health care workers, packing hygiene kits for hurricane survivors, and volunteering to perform dental work for neighbors in the Northwest.

2,761 volunteers served locally and internationally.

81,712 donated volunteer hours.
